The BULLETIN

'A FAR COUNTRY' TO OPEN TONIGHT

Seven students and three faculty members will appear tonight at 8:15 in "A Far Country," the winter term dramatic production by the Players of the Pear Garden.

The play by Henry Denker is opening a four-night run in the College's Little Theatre, Room C-116. The second performance will be tomorrow night. The play closes next weekend, on Friday, March 1, chase one or two tickets at $.75 each.

Tickets are available to the public at Jed Horner, lecturer in the drama department, directs "A Far Country." The play is based on actual events, authentically treated, in the career of Sigmund Freud. The dramatic conflict centers around Freud's psychoanalysis of a sexually neurotic patient.

Don Blair, who played Othello in last term's "Matches and Mis-Matches," stars as Freud. Vicki Stauss plays a neurotic patient and Brenda Axtell plays Freud's wife. Other students in the cast are Burton Hendrickson, Charlotte Elder, Dottie Roberts and Liz Borden.

Faculty members Clark Mayo and Joseph Labat play key roles, and Paul Johnson is cast as a Nazi.

The play's title comes from a quotation by Heraclitus, "The soul of man is a far country which cannot be approached or explored."
